this book addresses the impact of intermarriage between chinese immigrants and the natives specifically the intermingling of blood and the offspring from such unions and the influence they wielded on the society and environment they chose to live in it also covers how some rose to high positions and their contributions to their societies and how some openly declared their pride in their ancestry while others have forgotten their heritage and have dissociated themselves

this is an open access book faculty of social and political science state islamic university walisongo semarang has been playing significant roles in building global peace and justice by conducting scientific research and creating a space for academic dialogue and discussion this goal is in line with our vision to be a research faculty based on the unity of sciences for humanity and civilization as part of the efforts to create a space for academic dialogue at a global level we organize an international conference which aims to develop scientific knowledge build institutional capacity and strengthen international networking the conference is also held to support state islamic university walisongo semarang in achieving its vision to be an islamic world class university the conference raises the issue of democracy and social transformation to capture the social and political dynamics the selection of this topic is based on the idea that technological development is becoming a crucial issue within modern society in which people tend to experience alienation within the rapid social and political transformation democracy as a political system that ensures transparency citizen participation and human rights protection is now under threat having the fact that there is a growing tendency of using transactional politics to win political interests such as the use of money and identity in political processes therefore political analysts consider this situation as the regression of democracy rapid social and cultural transformation as a consequence of advanced technology creates problems in modern society on one hand technology has made the life of people easier however on the other hand the sense of humanity's values and principles is declining this situation can be observed in the decrease in social solidarity and the rise of individualism modernity that values productivity and economic growth has brought a negative impact on the life of human being and nature the exploitative character of industrialization has created an ecological crisis advanced information technology has loosened social cohesivity and the rise of instrumental rationality has removed local genius or local wisdom from the life of society since the ultimate goal of humanity is respecting the dignity of human beings hence bringing back humanity to the center of the development program is crucial especially in the current social and political dynamics in the political context humanity means respecting the basic rights of the citizen and putting them as a subject of political development and not perceiving citizens as only an instrument to win political power based on the above background this conference is organized the overall goal of the conference is to mainstream humanity in the current social and political change the conference is also expected to be an arena for scholars and experts in social and political science as well as practitioners and policymakers to meet and exchange ideas and perspectives for a better future of our society between harmony and discrimination explores the varying expressions of religious practices and the intertwined shifting interreligious relationships of the peoples of bali and lombok as religion has become a progressively more important identity marker in the 21st century the shared histories and practices of peoples of both similar and differing faiths are renegotiated reconfirmed or reconfigured this renegotiation inspired by hindu or islamic reform movements that encourage greater global identifications has created situations that are perceived locally to oscillate between harmony and discrimination depending on the relationships and the contexts in which they are acting religious belonging is increasingly important among the hindus and muslims of bali and lombok minorities christians chinese on both islands have also sought global partners contributors include brigitta hauser schublin david d harnish i wayan ardika ni luh sitjiati beratha erni budiwanti i nyoman darma putra i nyoman dhana leo howe mary ida bagus lene pedersen martin slama meike rieger sophie strauss kari telle and dustin wiebe

hamka s great story presents indonesia through the eyes of an impassioned popular thinker who believed that indonesians and muslims everywhere should embrace the thrilling promises of modern life and navigate its dangers with islam as their compass hamka haji abdul malik karim amrullah was born when indonesia was still a dutch colony and came of age as the nation itself was emerging through tumultuous periods of japanese occupation revolution and early independence he became a prominent author and controversial public figure in his lifetime of prodigious writing hamka advanced islam as a liberating enlightened and hopeful body of beliefs around which the new nation could form and prosper he embraced science human agency social justice and democracy arguing that these modern concepts comported with islam s true teachings hamka unfolded this big idea his great story decade by decade in a vast outpouring of writing that included novels and poems and chatty newspaper columns biographies memoirs and histories and lengthy studies of theology including a thirty volume commentary on the holy qur an in introducing this influential figure and his ideas to a wider audience this sweeping biography also illustrates a profound global process how public debates about religion are shaping national societies in the postcolonial world

mcamis also gives attention to the history of their relationship with christians a history that is key to understanding the current state of religious and social life in places like indonesia malaysia and the philippines since muslims and christians together comprise ninety four percent of the malay population peaceful interaction and cooperation between mosque and church are crucial to realizing the economic and political goals of the entire region

welcome to the 3rd indonesian textile conference itc 2019 it is our great honor and pleasure to have you all here today indonesian textile conference is by far the only scientific event in the field of textiles in indonesia aimed to bring together leading researchers experts students and people from the industry to share their knowledge and exchange scientific ideas indonesia is one of the leading textile exporter countries in the world with a total export value of usd 15 3 billion in 2015 and ranked the third after palm oil and steel source ministry of industry of republic of indonesia it is one of the ten priority industries and the mainstay of indonesian national industry in a global economy and fast changing world the future of indonesian textile industry will increasingly depend on the industry s ability to relentlessly innovate in its products to use the most advanced flexible and resource efficient processes and to focus its organizational structure as well as business operations according to the ever changing and growing needs of its customers in all that research and innovation are vital and play an ever increasing role Indonesian textile conference was initiated and is dedicated to promote and bring progress to research and innovation in the field of textile and textile related subjects in Indonesia. Textile is a rich multidisciplinary area of study and in fact has attracted a great deal of attention and numerous contributions from non-textile scientists. It is not just about clothing; it is all about material and all aspects that are inherent in the process of its production and applications. It covers a whole lot of area which includes but not limited to advanced material and textile fibers, natural fibers and natural dyes, utilization of natural sources for textiles in general and or functional textiles, environmental protection and ecological considerations in textile industry, life cycle analysis, clean green production, best practices in energy efficient processes, bio-based polymer, bioengineering, nanotechnology, textile based composites, industrial management and engineering, traditional textiles and batik, textile preservation and conservation, and design smart functional and interactive textile. Another area of interest which is quite recent and resulted from the convergence of latest developments in material science, physics and chemistry, microelectronics and informatics, stimuli responsive materials, self-healing polymers, textile energy devices, textile sensor and antenna are only a few examples of development in this area. Recently added to this is a new emerging fashionable technology, it is a new concept that brings fashion to the next level by integrating technology and fashion. It looks at the future fashion as intersection of design, fashion, science and technology. Beyond wearable technology, still another important and interesting issue in textile is sustainability, especially due to the stigma associated with the industry as the big polluter and being not environmentally friendly. Sustainable textiles and clothing involves the choice of materials, technologies and processing methods that ensure environmental and social friendliness and safety to human health throughout the entire life cycle phases. Thus there is an ample room for almost everyone to contribute in this conference. On behalf of the organizing committee and the management of Politeknik STT Bandung, we have a productive and fruitful conference.

Decoding the Conversion: 83cm to Inches – A Comprehensive Guide

The need to convert measurements between the metric (centimeters) and imperial (inches) systems arises frequently in everyday life. Whether you're working on a DIY project, shopping for clothes online, or simply understanding the dimensions of a piece of furniture, knowing how to convert between these systems is essential. This comprehensive guide focuses on converting 83 centimeters to inches, providing a detailed explanation of the process, along with practical examples and frequently asked questions to address any lingering queries.

Understanding the Conversion Factor

The foundation of any metric-imperial conversion lies in understanding the conversion factor. One inch is equivalent to approximately 2.54 centimeters. This means that to convert centimeters to inches, we need to divide the number of centimeters by 2.54. Conversely, to convert inches to centimeters, we multiply the number of inches by 2.54. This seemingly simple factor underpins all conversions between these two systems. The slight imprecision inherent in using "approximately" 2.54 stems from the fact that the inch is defined in relation to the meter, and the meter's definition has evolved over time. For most practical purposes, however, 2.54 is sufficiently accurate.

Calculating 83cm to Inches

Let's apply this knowledge to our specific problem: converting 83 centimeters to inches. Using the conversion factor, we perform the following calculation: $83 \text{ cm} / 2.54 \text{ cm/inch} \approx 32.68 \text{ inches}$. Therefore, 83 centimeters is approximately equal to 32.68 inches. It's crucial to remember that this is an approximation. The slight discrepancy arises from the inherent rounding involved in the conversion factor. In many practical situations, rounding to one or two decimal places provides sufficient accuracy.

Real-World Applications: Why This Conversion Matters

The ability to convert 83cm to inches, and more generally, to convert between metric and imperial units, is crucial across various fields:

- International Trade: Global commerce often requires understanding both metric and imperial measurements for product specifications, shipping dimensions, and manufacturing processes. Imagine importing furniture from Europe – knowing how to convert centimeters to inches is vital to ensure the furniture fits in your space.
- DIY and Home Improvement: Whether you're building a bookshelf, installing new flooring, or sewing curtains, accurate measurements are essential. Many DIY projects might provide dimensions in centimeters, while your measuring tools might be calibrated in inches, necessitating a conversion.
- Clothing and Apparel: Online shopping frequently presents sizing in centimeters, while many customers are accustomed to thinking in inches. This conversion becomes crucial for ensuring a proper fit. If a shirt is listed as having a 83cm chest measurement, you would need to convert this to inches to compare it to your own chest measurement in inches.
- Healthcare: Medical

measurements, such as height and weight, might be recorded in metric units in some contexts but need to be converted to imperial units in others for easier comparison or to work with older equipment.

Beyond the Basic Calculation: Advanced Considerations

While simple division provides a satisfactory answer for most purposes, there might be situations demanding higher accuracy. For instance, precision engineering or scientific applications may require more significant figures in the conversion. In such cases, using a calculator with more decimal places or specialized conversion software can improve accuracy. Furthermore, it's important to be mindful of the context and round to an appropriate level of precision. For instance, rounding 32.677165 inches to 32.7 inches is perfectly acceptable in most home improvement projects.

Conclusion

Converting 83 centimeters to inches, approximately 32.68 inches, is a straightforward process involving a simple division by the conversion factor of 2.54. However, understanding the underlying principles and the practical implications of this conversion is essential for navigating a world that utilizes both metric and imperial systems. The ability to perform this conversion smoothly empowers individuals to confidently tackle various tasks, from everyday shopping to complex engineering projects.

Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs)

1. Is 2.54 cm/inch an exact conversion factor? No, it's an approximation. The inch is defined in relation to the meter, leading to a slightly imprecise conversion factor. 2. How can I convert inches to centimeters? Multiply the number of inches by 2.54. 3. Are there any online converters for centimeter to inch conversions? Yes, many websites and apps offer free centimeter to inch converters. These can be particularly helpful for more complex conversions or for batch conversions. 4. What is the margin of error in this type of conversion? The margin of error depends on the number of decimal places used in the conversion. Using 2.54 to two decimal places introduces a small level of inaccuracy. For high precision, more accurate conversion factors and more significant figures in calculations are needed. 5. Why are both metric and imperial systems still used? The continued use of both systems stems from historical reasons and varying adoption rates across different countries and industries. A complete global shift to a single system remains a complex and ongoing process.
